

London Centre for the Study of Contemporary Antisemitism

CALL FOR PAPERS & PANELS

Call for Papers and Panels 21st Century Antisemitism: A Global Conference with a UK Focus

11-13 September 2022

Queen Mary, University of London
Lincoln's Inn Fields

The Deadline for abstracts and panel proposals is 1 March 2022

Confirmed speakers:

Alan Johnson, Alvin Rosenfeld, Annette Seidel-Arpaci, Anthony Julius, Balaazs Berkovits, Daniel Chernilo, Eric Heinze, David Hirsh, David Seymour,
Dina Porat, Howard Jacobson, John Mann, Karin Stögner, Matthias Küntzel,
Philip Spencer, Stephan Grigat

At the conference there will also be a major public event to launch the new centre.

We are asking for papers and proposals for panels on 21st century antisemitism

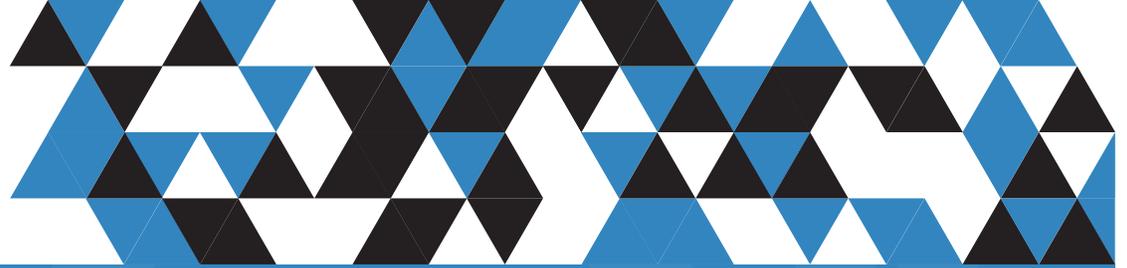

Email 200 word abstracts with short bio telling us who you are to LondonAntisemitismCentre@gmail.com

The Deadline for abstracts and panel proposals is 1 March 2022.

The conference is an academic conference, but non-academics are welcome.

Please plan to come to London for September but if we have to go online, we will.

Please share this call for papers around your networks.

We are calling for papers and for proposed panels on:

- Relationships between 21st century antisemitism and previous antisemitisms
- Soviet and Communist antizionism and their enduring impact
- Antizionism as a distinct anti-Jewish ideology
- BDS and antizionism
- The Corbyn movement
- The significance of the contested definitions of antisemitism
- Jewish, Muslim and Christian antisemitism and antizionism
- 21st century antisemitism and antizionism in
 - Eastern Europe
 - France
 - Germany
 - Israel
 - Chile
 - USA
- Antizionism and antisemitism in intellectual discourse:
 - Holocaust and Genocide Studies
 - Antisemitism Studies, Israel Studies and Jewish Studies
 - Post-Colonial Studies, Critical Race Theory and 'Whiteness' Studies
 - Gender Studies
 - LGBTQ+ Studies
- Antisemitism, the 'New Populism' and contempt for the democratic state
- Antisemitism and conspiracy fantasy, in particular relating to the Covid crisis

